

Team Fusion

Building interconnected cross-functional teams

Cross-functional teams work with high levels of agility, are collaborative by nature and possess a shared global vision of the impact of their work in the broadest context.

Effective members of cross-functional teams are highly adaptive, flexible and ready to collaborate and support one another as needs arise. They have a propensity to seek information from large areas of the organisation and in doing so create a culture of rigour based on a shared knowledge base. They also possess developed capacities of empathy and sensitivity when dealing with pressure and challenging situations.*
