

Kelly Wilson

Senior Associate, Facilitator and Designer

"I'd like to be remembered for inspiring people to have meaningful lives through realising the strengths they have to offer themselves, others and the world."

Expertise:

- Leadership Development
- Executive Coaching
- Facilitation and Training
- Change Management
- Learning Design

Qualifications:

Master of Organisational Psychology (Griffith)

Bachelor of Behavioural Science - Honours (QUT)

Graduate Diploma in Psychology

Bachelor of Business - Accounting and Administration (University of Tasmania)

Kelly applies her expertise as a registered psychologist to guide both individual and organisational development in her work as a designer, coach and facilitator.

Kelly provides strengths-based and solution-focused support, challenging mindsets to facilitate behavioural shifts amidst periods of significant change.

An experienced facilitator, Kelly enjoys working with a diverse range of organisations. She has an ability to adapt to the unique needs of each group, drawing knowledge from participants to assist with their learning. As an executive coach, she is able to quickly build trust and rapport to encourage the exploration of new ideas and perspectives, uncover deep insight, and guide the development of practical pathways for improvement and ongoing learning.

Kelly has over 15 years' diverse commercial experience within some of Australia's most successful and respected organisations, encompassing the fields of human resources, account management and procurement. She holds a Bachelors Degree in Business and a Master of Organisational Psychology. She is an Associate Member of the Australian Psychological Society (APS) and a member of the Golden Key International Honour Society.