Anna combines creative energy, facilitation prowess and design expertise to engage, educate and inspire.

Anna draws from over 25 years' experience in diverse leadership roles across multiple industries and sectors, working with global organisations such as Getty Images across Europe and the United States of America. In 2017, she founded Art, Laugh, Talk, facilitating forums, workshops and retreats in creative knowledge sharing and skill-building, combining her passion for facilitation, human development and design.

Anna's warmth and engaging personality, incisive mind, and passion for helping others ensures she is a skilful facilitator. Empathy underpins her approach. She connects with people of all backgrounds and listens deeply to diverse needs and perspectives, channelling collective energy towards new ways of thinking and doing that benefit the whole. From strategy and decision-making workshops through to leadership and team development programs, Anna enables insightful experiences that have a profound impact on individuals and teams.

A person of kaleidoscopic talent, Anna is also spearheading Performance Frontiers new Digital Learning wing. Across learning platforms, both in-person and online, Anna pioneers a highly visual, interactive and playful approach to learning that ensures sustainable impact.
