

Gretel Bakker

Founder and Managing Director

“The essence of our work is finding out about people, asking the right questions and working in creative ways with people; to be open, agile, and to have the foresight to create the best solutions.”

Expertise:

- Transformation
- Organisational and Cultural Change
- Innovation and Creativity
- Design Thinking
- Neuroscience
- Visioning & Strategy
- Leadership Development
- Executive Coaching
- High Performing Teams
- Agile and Lean Design
- Sustainability
- Systems Thinking

Qualifications:

Leading Transformation in the Digital Age (Harvard Business School)

Customer focused Innovation (Stanford Executive School)

Graduate Certificate of Neuroscience and Neuroleadership - (Middlesex University UK)

BA Creative Industries - (QUT)

BA Business - (QUT)

Life Styles Inventory™/Group Styles Inventory™ Accredited Practitioner (Human Synergistics)

EQi2 Certified Trainer (Multi Health Systems)

Over the past 18 years, Gretel has established, grown and led Performance Frontiers —a company that partners with some of the most visionary leaders undergoing cultural and business transformation.

From Fortune 500 companies to local startups, Gretel works alongside CEOs and their teams to help them envision the future they want to create, and then develop their strategies, cultures, mindsets and behaviours to make their vision a reality.

As a design-thinker, facilitator and advisor, Gretel gets to the heart of the matter and supports leaders and teams to create practical and holistic solutions to complex challenges. Her engaging, incisive approach helps leaders develop their creative and critical thinking, clarity and momentum to break new ground and maximise their performance.

Gretel has worked extensively as a mentor and executive coach of leaders from all levels and industry sectors, across Australia, Asia and North America.

She has presented as keynote nationally and internationally, and is regarded as a thought leader in the fields of whole-systems thinking, transformation, human-centred design, and arts-based practice.

Gretel continues to work today with optimism and heart-felt commitment to tap into the full potential of people and the collective intelligence of organisations.